Appointed by the Archdiocese of Birmingham

Position - Chair of the Standards Committee

I became a Foundation Governor of St Augustine's School during last academic year. I am a qualified teacher and have taught pupils from ages three to eighteen. Most of my teaching career was spent in Catholic schools culminating in sixteen years as headteacher of a two-form entry Catholic primary school in Birmingham. I am fully committed to Catholic education and have worked closely with the diocesan RE Department as an advisor and supporting governing bodies in carrying out Headteacher Performance Management. Currently, I work for Coventry City Council as a School Improvement Advisor supporting thirty four of the city's primary schools. I also advise a further group of schools across the West Midlands providing support and guidance on Leadership and Management in order to raise attainment and impact on school improvement. As a mother, grandmother and education professional I am committed to the right of every child to receive a high quality education and hope that as a Foundation Governor I can contribute to the continued effectiveness of our parish school.
